1996 – Present

Program Development:

Developed and organized the Integrated Training Model in Plastic Surgery at the University of Virginia in 1996. This is a six-year residency in Plastic Surgery where the resident is selected directly from Medical School. The educational curriculum is a blend of General Surgery and surgical sub-specialties in the first three years followed by three years of Plastic Surgery training. This is one of first of 40 fully-accredited training programs in the nation using this integrated model and it attracts the top medical students interested in this training format to the University each year. The program recently received fully-accredited status. Dr. Drake served as the program coordinator and faculty advisor for these residents and chaired the selection committee until 2008.
